Tully Historical Museum News

Recent historical artifacts received include a 1940's Maytag Wringer washing machine donated by the Shetler Family. Does that ever bring back childhood memories for many of us

The Mickelson Family recently donated a framed picture of Judson Wright, born in 1867, who was the first Pharmacist in Tully. He operated the J.S. Wright Drugstore on Warren Street (became known as "Old Reliable"). Judson is the Great Grandfather of Paula Mickelson. Judson's Father, John, operated a store back in 1860 located on Elm Street where he sold groceries, sundries and a limited supply of drugs.

We welcome historic Tully area artifacts and encourage residents to stop by and tour our museum.

Cummings Park

The Village of Tully is excited to announce the arrival of all new playground equipment for Cummings Park. Through a community development grant, the Village was able to secure funds for new handicap accessible equipment. It has arrived and will be installed later this month at Cummings Park.

UPCOMING AUTUMN EVENTS from TULLY ARTS COUNCIL

Sunday, September 9th, 6 PM, in Concert:

DAVE ZAWADZKI at ArtWorks!

Local singer/songwriter Dave Zawadzki performs classics and originals at our opening of the fall season in the ArtWorks gallery. Dave, a gifted singer and guitarist, hosts a warm and easy-going evening for everyone. All are welcome—there is no charge for this event.

Sunday, October 7th, 5 PM, Setnor School of Music, Syracuse University:

World Premiere, Emmanuel Sikora's LYRIC SYMPHONY

Prodigious classical music composer Emmanuel Sikora is a Homer native whom the Tully Arts Council claims as one of its own for his generous sharing of time and talent over the last six years in many of its musical productions. One of his many compositions, Lyric Symphony, caught the eye of Syracuse University Symphony Orchestra's conductor, Dr. James Tapia, and is making its World Premiere at Setnor School of Music's Castle Auditorium. Tully residents are invited to attend free of charge. Scouts from orchestras around the country are planning to come, so imagine how amazing the opportunity is to be in the first audience of a piece that could soon be performed all over the country and the world? More info in next month's newsletter.

Friday, October 19th, 7 PM, Tully Train Depot

CALL ME BABA YAGA, a one-woman show by Deborah Goemans

Local writer, dancer, and bon vivant Deborah Goemans presents a series of original essays brought to life in the warmth and welcome of the Tully Train Station. At turns humorous, bawdy, wistful, heartbreaking, and inspiring, Goemans weaves a story of a life lived on three continents in four countries, including the challenges of Empty Nest, aging with grace and silliness, love, loss, family, and magic in strange places and situations. Donation only, refreshments available. Reservations can be made at the ArtWorks Studio's Box Office.

BACK TO SCHOOL REMINDER

Just a friendly reminder, School is about to begin again, which means our little ones will be walking and riding to school. Please be observant while driving through town and remember to stop for any school bus when its lights are flashing.

KINGS CORNER MARKET

The 7th annual Kings Corner Market is in full swing, this year having more participants than ever. Come into the center of the village Tuesdays in August from 4-7pm and you'll have a chance to meet some of your local producers and business owners. Swing by the food truck, order your dinner and then take a seat in Cornerstone Park to enjoy the live music. Sign the kids up for a yoga session or face painting. Wander the sidewalks and pick up a flower bouquet or a snack to satisfy the sweet tooth. The market is a rain or shine event, don't be scared by a weather forecast, there is still plenty of shopping to be done.

Are you looking for ways to support the market? How about a Tully, NY pint /stemless glass or a KCM tee shirt? Glasses and tee shirts are sold year round @ Earth 2 Soul and Rusty Wheel Pottery. During the village market nights glasses are also available at the Windmill Hill Soap booth # 12. Tee shirts are also available at these locations. All proceeds go to KCM for marketing and advertising. Your support is what makes this market successful. Please come see for yourself, spend your money, support your neighbors and "buy local" we have some of the best that central NY has to offer!
